CENTRAL TEST partners with SMARTRECRUITERS and joins online Marketplace

Paris (France), November 7th, 2018

Central Test, a leading expert publisher in psychometric assessments, has the pleasure to announce its partnership with SmartRecruiters, a premium recruiting software designed for hiring success.

The partnership will provide SmartRecruiters' users around the world a full range of state-of-the-art recruitment and development assessments allowing them to select and retain the best profiles.

Since 2002, Central Test is developing innovative online assessment solutions enabling organisations to accurately identify an individual's personality, abilities and motivations by delivering valuable insights into their behaviour and potential to succeed on the job.

"We are pleased to integrate Central Test 's psychometric assessment solutions on SmartRecruiters' Marketplace and are excited to reach new markets through this partnership" said Patrick Leguide, CEO of Central Test. The most difficult challenge today is to find the candidates that fit the job role and the company culture. Our wide range of solutions provides a multi-criteria approach in the assessment of the essential skills needed to succeed in a position.

This innovative approach offers a better identification of people potential from the early stage of selection.

We are glad that each SmartRecruiters client can now easy deploy and send Central Test assessments and receive the detailed results directly in the SmartRecruiters platform."
